

Marco Curreli, PhD

Founder & Executive Director

Omni Nano

marcocurreli@omninano.org

Dr. Curreli founded Omni Nano in 2012 as a way to express his two biggest passions in life – nanotechnology and education. He runs the organization on a day-to-day basis, developing curricula, presenting workshops, and pioneering the teaching of nanotechnology courses. He holds a Ph.D. in chemistry from the University of Southern California.
